Lending a Hand, Delivering Results: 2013 IHDA Annual Report

Overview

The Illinois Housing Development Authority's (IHDA) Annual Report is compiled every year to showcase the agency's achievements. Fiscal Year 2013 was an outstanding year for us. The challenge became how to present all of our accomplishments succinctly without losing the tremendous impact our accomplishments had made on the people we serve and, more importantly, the huge contribution affordable housing made in driving our state's economy forward in 2013.

Real stories

IHDA recognizes the importance of putting a face to an initiative to help illustrate the significance of our programs and how they make a real difference to the lives of the people we serve. We have traditionally placed a heavy emphasis on real stories in our annual reports. However, for 2013, this didn't seem enough. While the personal experiences of the people who were helped were still important and subsequently included, we could not ignore the important role our housing production had played in boosting the local economy. This was an important message to convey.

Graphics

As we analyzed the year's homeownership activity and multifamily production data, we realized the statistics were pointing to very impressive achievements that, if done right, could help us to communicate a very important and powerful message. We knew that the key to doing this effectively was to present the statistics in an equally powerful way.

That's why the decision was made to create a very visual annual report for 2014 that highlighted the economic impact of our work using impactful graphics and clear results that were easy to digest.

As mentioned earlier, 2013 was a very successful year for the Authority. We benefited from a number of significant leadership decisions that helped spur production. For example, Illinois Governor Pat Quinn declared 2013 as "the year of homeownership". And in 2009, for the first time in Illinois history, the Governor dedicated state capital funds to the creation and preservation of affordable housing. This led to the decision to present data in the annual report's "Delivering Results" sections from not just an annual perspective, as in previous years, but to also include a five-year synopsis.

Printing and Distribution

In our technology driven world the decision to print less and distribute electronically was an easy decision. Doing so allowed us to get the annual report into our reader's hands quickly and save on costs.

We did a print run of just 1,500, and mailed hard copies to approximately 200 legislators, who are our primary audience. In addition, we emailed electronic copies to a collaboration of over 8,000 community partners, elected officials, government agencies, non-profits, developers, investors and many others. The report was also sent out through the usual social media channels and featured in our monthly newsletter with a website link to all of our audiences.

Response

The response has been tremendous. Everyone from our Board of Directors, to staff to developers to investors have raved about the "new" look and feel. Readers have deemed it "clear, easy to follow and very informative about IHDA's programs and more importantly, our impact". During a critical time in a very difficult housing market it is our responsibility to communicate the strength of our agency and how we are able to increase affordable housing options for the people of Illinois and help stimulate the local economy through our investments now and into the future.

Conclusion

The goal of the FY2013 Annual Report had been to communicate a very successful year for the Authority in a clear, concise, and easy-to-digest, yet powerful and dynamic, way. We believe we succeeded.

1. 2013 IHDA Annual Report

LETTER FROM THE GOVERNOR

We in Illinois know firsthand how important housing is to our families, our neighborhoods and our economy. After several years of a declining housing market, we are seeing signs of recovery. Through the Illinois Housing Development Authority, we have instituted the most aggressive housing revitalization programs the state has ever seen. The results are impressive.

I declared 2013 as the Year of Homeownership to emphasize the importance of housing in the economic recovery of our state. I introduced new mortgage products that provided access to credit and down payment assistance so that buying a home could become a reality for many families. These changes drove home sales to new levels, stimulating business and generating

We eliminated the first-time homebuyer requirement from select programs, entering the refinance and repeat homebuyer market. We hosted the state's first-ever Homebuyer Expo, pre-qualifying hundreds of families for mortgage financing and driving an increase in home sales. We continued our proud service to Illinois military personnel and Veterans by helping over 600 heroes buy homes. And, we expanded our investment in local communities to relieve them of the burden of maintaining vacant homes.

Due to the foreclosure crisis, the demand for rental housing has never been greater. Every person in our state has a right to a safe and affordable place to live. But the reality is over 50 percent of Illinois renters are housing cost burdened, paying too much of their income towards rent and leaving less money for food and other essentials. The state is working tirelessly to increase the rental options available to working families, seniors and people with disabilities. With more than 2,300 affordable rental units created or preserved this year, we contributed to building strong communities and economic growth.

Through our financing of affordable housing, we created over 4,000 full time jobs in FY13 and generated millions of dollars of local business income, wages, and taxes throughout the state.

Together, we have made progress in Illinois. I am proud of the work that the Illinois Housing Development Authority has done to create and preserve affordable housing for the citizens of Illinois. I look forward to continuing our momentum and building on our successes in the year to come.

Sincerely,

ECONOMIC ENGINE THAT HELPS DRIVE ILLINOIS FORWARD."

Pat Quinn, Governor

OUR MISSION

FINANCING THE CREATION AND PRESERVATION OF AFFORDABLE HOUSING

THE ILLINOIS HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY (IHDA)

finances the creation and preservation of affordable housing throughout the State of Illinois to increase the supply of decent and safe places for people of low and moderate means to live.

IHDA is an independent, self-supporting state agency that issues bonds based on its own strong credit rating to raise private capital to finance affordable housing.

In addition, IHDA oversees and allocates federal and state resources to community partners to offer affordable mortgages to homebuyers and construction loans and grants to developers of multifamily rental properties.

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The housing market is markedly different than it was in 2012. The number of completed foreclosures is down, home values have made substantial gains and the need for affordable rental housing has never been greater.

Under the direction of Governor Pat Quinn, IHDA has stepped up to the challenges of today's housing market and we made a difference.

We received a credit upgrade from Standard & Poor's to AA- from A+ as a result of our financial strength and strong management practices, enabling us to access capital at a lower cost and transfer the savings to homeowners and developers in the form of lower interest rates.

We provided liquidity to fuel the home buying market in Illinois. Our mortgages have lower credit score requirements, provide cash for down payment assistance and require homeownership counseling. Through IHDA's network of 98 participating lenders, $286 million in loans were made to 2,503 families in FY13, generating 1,251 jobs and infusing $59 million into Illinois' economy.

We invested state and federal resources to drive production of affordable rental housing for working families and our seniors. We launched a program to help rehabilitate the state's aging multifamily rental housing and extend the federal rental assistance associated with these developments. We brought renewed focus to our work on behalf of people with disabilities, creating a record number of units specifically targeting people with special needs. And we worked to provide more housing options for our Veterans, including more supportive housing for Veterans with special needs and a lucrative financing package for those military families seeking to purchase a home.

And, we fought hard at the national level to not only preserve, but expand the existing resources that support more affordable housing for the families that need it.

It is my pleasure to share with you our highlights in the Fiscal Year 2013 Annual Report. This report illustrates the outstanding work of the Illinois Housing Development Authority. It was a great year for affordable housing in Illinois and I look forward to a successful 2014.

Sincerely,

Mary R. Kenney, Executive Director

IHDA's financial strength and strong management practices resulted in a 2013 CREDIT UPGRADE FROM STANDARD & POOR'S TO AA- FROM A+.

IHDA issued $127.6 MILLION in multifamily taxable bonds in May: the first issuance of fixed-rate general obligation bonds since 2007.

LENDING A HAND

A healthy housing market is essential to the overall economic prosperity of Illinois. IHDA helps to provide liquidity to Illinoisans to fuel the home buying process. IHDA ACTS AS AN ECONOMIC ENGINE FOR ILLINOIS. Through efforts such as lowering required credit scores, providing down payment assistance and offering homeownership counseling, there are a greater number of potential homebuyers, helping to grow and stabilize the affordable housing market in the state and in turn, the economy.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Over the past five years, 6,414 WORKING CLASS FAMILIES have capitalized on historically low housing prices and interest rates by accessing $724 MILLION in our mortgages and down payment assistance to buy homes, creating 3,207 JOBS and pumping $151 MILLION back into Illinois' economy.

By introducing four new mortgage programs over the last two years, IHDA has driven production to historic levels.

EXPECTATIONS EXCEEDED

For many Illinois residents, our loan services are the difference between having to rent and being able to own their own home. Patrick Yocum, 35, took advantage of IHDA's new SmartMove Trio loan program to purchase his first home in Bloomington. Patrick received $6,000 in down payment assistance from IHDA along with an additional federal tax credit that will reduce his income tax liability by $20,000 over the life of the loan.

"I was thrilled with the down payment assistance, I would not have been able to afford my home without it," said Patrick. "I have a lower monthly payment and I have flexibility to put more money into renovations. It's really more than what we expected."

Patrick's dream of homeownership couldn't have come at a better time. He recently got engaged and will be starting his new life in the house with his son, Cooper, fiancée Leslie and her sister, Cortney.

"My home means more to me now because I have a family. We'll keep this house forever. When we look back, when we have grandchildren, they will have stories. It's exciting that we now have that foundation of where all those future events can happen."

The Welcome Home Heroes program offers Veteran and military personnel a secure 30year fixed rate loan, $10,000 in down payment assistance and tax benefits to buy a home in Governor Pat Quinn launched the program in December 2011 to give back to those who have sacrificed to safeguard our freedom. To date, IHDA has loaned $145 million to 1,150 military families. On average, 50 military families per month purchase a home through this program. The typical buyer is a 38 year old first-time home buyer (94 percent) earning above 80 percent of the area median income (AMI).

DUTY RETURNED

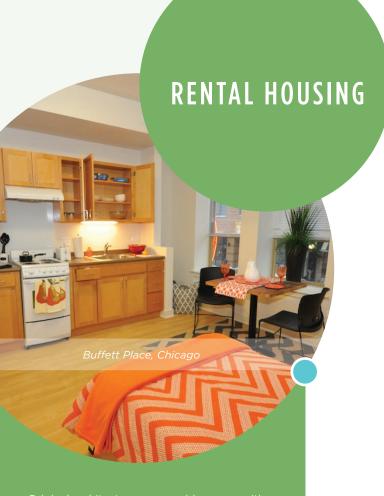

When veteran Stephene Maxwell overheard her landlord comment that Stephene's rent payments covered the property's mortgage, she was inspired. From that point on, the 44-year-old administrative assistant at the Edward Hines, Jr. VA Hospital was determined to own her own home.

Welcome Home Heroes made that dream a reality. Stephene's service in the Army/National Guard, including a deployment in Iraq from 2005-06, qualified her for the Welcome Home Heroes loan. She bought her first home in May 2013 in south suburban Chicago and loves the security of homeownership.

"Twenty-four years of service has been very good to me (and) as we can see, paid off in many different ways. It made me a better citizen," says Stephene. "There are still days when I pull up to the house and can't believe that it is mine."

In fiscal year 2013, Welcome Home Heroes made homeownership possible for more than 600 Illinois military personnel and Veterans like Stephene.

Original architecture can provide communities with unique charm but often older buildings are not capable of meeting the needs of people with disabilities. That's why IHDA board members approved $2.3 million in Illinois Jobs Now! funds in July 2012 to renovate Chicago's former Diplomat Hotel into Buffett Place. Built in 1927, construction crews transformed the hotel into 51 studio apartments of supportive housing for people with disabilities. In addition to a fully landscaped rooftop garden and courtyard, residents can now access supportive services including medical assistance, educational and vocational training, employment placement services, and community engagement activities. The development supported 130 construction jobs and 19 ongoing positions.

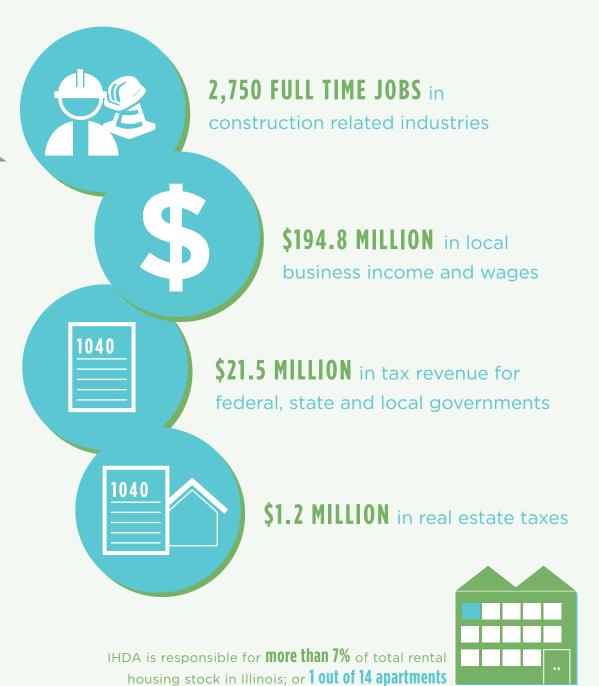

LENDING A HAND

Providing affordable and safe rental options also helps to drive the overall economy in Illinois. That's why, in addition to providing lending solutions to those looking to buy a home, IHDA leverages state and federal resources to drive production of affordable rental housing for working families, individuals with special needs and senior citizens. These funds are also used to maintain and improve existing affordable rental properties, so that Illinoisans who are not ready to purchase their own home can find rental solutions that meet their needs.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Over the past five years, IHDA has invested $939 MILLION and leveraged $2.5 BILLION more to create and preserve 19,700 affordable rental homes in 257 developments with TOTAL VALUE OF $3.5 BILLION. This activity created 13,401 full time jobs and generated over $1.0 billion in taxes, business income and wages.

COMMUNITY REGAINED

In 2012, when an unexpected health condition required lifelong Orland Park native John Murray Jr. to leave his job, find a new place to live and rely on Social Security disability payments, his world was turned upside down.

He wanted desperately to remain living in the area he had lived his whole life but with a limited budget he had few affordable options. John moved into a nearby seniors home but found it hard to adjust to the structured lifestyle. At only 60 years old, he was still very interested in an active social life and enjoyed his independence.

When John saw the sign for Thomas Place of Orland Park, a new 80-unit development of modern affordable homes for independent seniors, his decision was simple.

"I was the first to sign up!" he says. "It just wasn't right (for me) to go someplace else. I know everyone in Orland (Park)."

John moved into Thomas Place in March 2013 and says it has already been life-changing. Having his own kitchen to cook healthier meals in and a conveniently located community exercise room has helped the happy resident lose weight. He has also made new friends and often organizes social activities for the other residents.

Thomas Place of Orland Park is developed by Ryan Companies and Providence Life Services and is the area's first affordable rental development.

PERMANENT SUPPORTIVE HOUSING

LENDING A HAND

IHDA remains committed to improving the quality of life for people with disabilities and special needs by increasing the opportunities that enable them to live independently in the community of their choice. Supportive housing is a solution that allows the state's most vulnerable individuals the chance to live with freedom, choice and dignity by providing more than just a home, but the care they need to live with stability. By linking residents with affordable housing and services through a statewide referral network, IHDA maximizes the use of state and federal resources, prevents the premature institutionalization of seniors and persons with disabilities and ensures everyone has the chance for a healthy, active life.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Over the past five years, IHDA has financed MORE THAN 2,000 UNITS of new permanent supportive housing.

FY2013 PERMANENT SUPPORTIVE HOUSING PRODUCTION AND ECONOMIC IMPACT

Secured $13 million in rental assistance that will subsidize the rent on 835 units for years to come.

11 PERCENT of the total units IHDA created and preserved since 2009 are PERMANENT SUPPORTIVE HOUSING.

ECONOMIC IMPACT:

savings

The cost of providing someone with supportive housing in the community is $37,000 less per year than the cost of housing that person in a nursing home or institution. That is a 72.4% reduction in cost and a significant savings for the State of Illinois.

INDEPENDENCE RESTORED

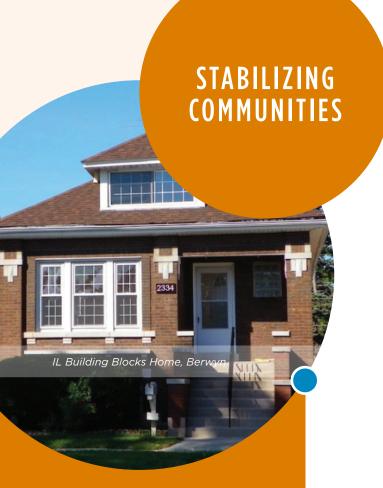

66-year old Gale McCahill had been living with her daughter Bernadette, 36, and two grandsons when her landlord suddenly evicted them to sell the home. Facing homelessness, a sympathetic local store owner allowed the family to take shelter in his basement after spotting them living out of their car. The McCahills sought assistance through the Salvation Army, which connected them with the Illinois State Referral Network. The Network's counselors found Gail and Bernadette each a home at Greenleaf Manor in Glenview, a 20-unit affordable townhome community developed by the Chicago-based Daveri Development Group in an effort to further IHDA's Permanent Supportive Housing goals.

Bernadette is now studying to be a nurse and is overjoyed to have a permanent home for her family.

"I am independent for the first time and it feels fantastic! If it weren't for Greenleaf Manor, we would be homeless right now. It is great (knowing) that I can take care of my boys now and give them stability," says Bernadette.

With her mother living in her own unit two doors away to help out with child care, Bernadette is able to focus on regaining financial stability for her family. Greenleaf Manor has given the single-mother the support she needs to get back on her feet.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

Governor Quinn launched the Illinois Building Blocks program in 2012 as a holistic strategy issue in targeted communities. Through this program, IHDA has provided $55 million in financing to 545 families to purchase vacant homes and we have invested $10 million to acquire and rehabilitate 75 vacant homes for home ownership.

In addition, through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program, IHDA rehabilitated 380 formerly vacant units and brought them back to productive use.

LENDING A HAND

In addition to helping homeowners, we also support communities. Vacant single-family homes impose significant costs to taxpayers and municipalities, especially if they are not maintained. Local governments are often forced to step in to secure and maintain these properties that contribute to blight, neighborhood distress and reduced tax rolls throughout the state. IHDA implemented an aggressive campaign to bring thousands of properties back online over the past few years, leveraging resources from multiple sources to rebuild whole communities - one house, one block and one neighborhood at a time.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Through our various efforts, we invested over $150 MILLION to bring Grant Program to transform more than 240 VACANT PROPERTIES into community assets over the next two years with $6.6 MILLION in

FY2013 HIGHLIGHTS

We stimulated the reuse of 265 vacant homes by providing $10,000 in down payment assistance to families who purchase a vacant property.

We expanded the Building Blocks communities and now offer the homebuyer financing package in 15 hard-hit communities.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

The Governor launched the Illinois Foreclosure Prevention Network (IFPN), a one-stop comprehensive, free resource that has connected over 1 million struggling homeowners to foreclosure mitigation help. The Network has 200 trained housing counselors in nearly 100 locations across the state.

IFPN created a network of housing counseling agencies that have assisted over 100,000 Illinois families.

IHDA committed over $375 million in federal mortgage assistance from the Illinois Hardest Hit program so that nearly 12,000 families could stay in their homes.

FY2013 ECONOMIC IMPACT OF AVOIDED FORECLOSURES

LENDING A HAND

Even though the foreclosure crisis no longer dominates headlines, it is still a very real problem for many homeowners in our state. That is why we continue to dedicate resources to keeping families in their homes. Under Governor Quinn's leadership, we launched a statewide coordinated effort to combat the foreclosure crisis by providing mortgage assistance, foreclosure mitigation counseling and legal assistance to thousands of homeowners to allow them the time they need to regain their financial footing.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Foreclosure inventory DOWN 34.2% (compared to June 2012)

A FAMILY HOME SAVED

Sylvia Ramos, 63, and her daughter Melissa, 35, of Rockford learned how valuable foreclosure assistance can be. After suffering two strokes in two years, Sylvia lost her job and faced foreclosure on the family home.

Determined to explore their options, the pair received homeownership counseling from the Rockford Area Affordable Housing Coalition, which provides full bilingual services. "They told us to come in right away and get the process started," says Melissa.

The housing counselor helped Sylvia and Melissa secure temporary financial assistance through the Illinois Hardest Hit program and a permanent loan modification to bring the mortgage down to a more affordable level.

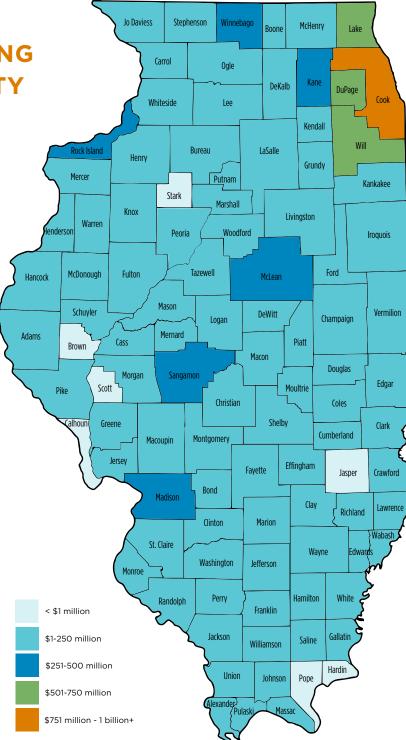

Mother and daughter say the temporary assistance bought them some time to pause, assess and plan for a fresh start without the pressure of mounting mortgage bills looming over them.

"I don't know what we would have done without this help," says Melissa. "My mom would have lost the home for sure. This home means everything to us."

Sylvia is now back to hosting family get-togethers in her home and Melissa is working to regain her family's financial footing with a new career in home health care.

IHDA RESOURCES AND FINANCIAL STABILITY YIELD STRONG RESULTS

IHDA is a bonding authority and independently issues bonds and other debt instruments to support our activities. Our financial strength enables us to access capital at a lower cost and transfer the savings to homeowners and developers in the form of lower interest rates.

FY2013 RESOURCES HIGHLIGHTS:

IHDA's financial strength and strong management practices resulted in a 2013 credit rating upgrade from Standard & Poor's to AA- from A+.

In addition, S&P affirmed its ratings on IHDA's Homeowner Mortgage Revenue Bonds Indenture and the multifamily Housing Bonds Indenture.

We successfully maintained strong ratings with issuer credit ratings of A1 and AA-from Moody's Investors Service and from Fitch Ratings, respectively.

We issued $127.6 million in multifamily taxable bonds in May. This was the first issuance of fixed-rate general obligation bonds since 2007.

Our state and federal resources

State and federal resources allocated by IHDA also help us to finance quality affordable housing and avert home foreclosures across Illinois. In FY2013 these resources included:
