

The Alaska Housing Finance Corporation does not limit the amount of tax-exempt multifamily bond authority for which a developer may apply. Developers are encouraged to request as much bond authority as is needed for financial feasibility. To receive the full amount of 4 percent Housing Credit authority, at least 25 percent of total costs must be financed with tax-exempt multifamily bonds in accordance with Federal requirements.